

SHAKARA

FROM THE KINGDOM OF THAILAND

SHAKARA is a tropically aged Thai rum that pays tribute to the long history of the culture of sugar cane in South East Asia. Inspired by the word shakar (śarkarā in Sanskrit: शर्करा), which is the root of the Latin term saccharum, Shakara pays tribute to Southeast Asia, the historic cradle of sugarcane cultivation. SHAKARA is an accessible and refined introduction to aged rums from Thailand, a country still full of hidden gems. Bottled additive-free.

SHAKARA 15 YEARS OLD

Raw material	Molasses
Distillation	Column still
Aging	15 years - 100 % tropical Ex-bourbon barrels
ABV	46,2 %
No additives	No sugar or coloring added

Distilled from local molasses in a column still, Shakara 15 Year is the culmination of a decade and a half of patience. It matured in ex-bourbon barrels within the embrace of Thailand's intense tropical climate—a crucible of heat and humidity that demands a generous 'angel's share' but rewards with unparalleled concentration. The result is a liquid of remarkable depth, weaving together dried fruits, soft spices, and refined oxidative notes. It is exceptionally mature yet paradoxically vibrant, concluding with a finish of lingering elegance.

TASTING NOTES

Nose – Fresh and polished. Opens with salted butter caramel, beeswax, and chocolate, lifted by tropical mango, cherry, and spiced apricot.

Palate – Light-bodied with a silky texture. Notes of cocoa powder, ginger, and pine resin transition into zesty orange and wild strawberry.

Finish – Rich and generous. Evokes the warmth of a caramelized apricot tart. The finish deepens into autumnal notes of chestnut and fennel, underpinned by a subtle medicinal edge, raw cane sugar, and a delicate vegetal freshness.
